

Ruth Culver Community Library

Update: December 2010/January 2011

Thank You

We are so appreciative for all the support we've gotten from our community. Thank you for your business, your support and your excitement for our new space. We look forward to serving you from our new home on Water St. It is only possible because of the combined generosity and support of all of you.

Coming in 2012!

The Ruth Culver Community Library is scheduled to open in mid-2012. We hope you are as excited as we are.

Our welcoming new space was designed to accommodate the needs of today's library user. With expanded collections, current technology and engaging programming, our new library will support the evolving needs of our community. Having much-needed space will allow us to better fulfill our role as an essential community resource by providing access to information, technology, culture and programming.

Campaign: $60,000 Still Needed

An additional $60,000 is still needed to complete the Ruth Culver Community Library. We have had amazing community support of the project, but additional funds are still needed to complete the project including shelving and furniture beyond what we already have. Bids for the new library came back much higher than expected, but changes to the project were made to get the costs back within the budget.

Please contact Jennifer Endres Way at 643-8318 or visit www.pdslibrary.org for more information on the project and campaign.
